QUICK FACTS

160

People in more than 160 countries in the world enjoy incense sticks made in India.

The demand for incense products from India is growing.

The “Incense Road”

connected in ancient times India, South Asia, Arabian countries and Europe.

The quality of incense sticks varies, low quality products may contain chemicals causing damage to health.

High quality producers are mindful and use allowed ingredients according to laws.

3500

The ancient Indian Wisdom Books, “the VEDAS”, write about the burning of incenses around 3500 years ago. Incense burners were found in the Indus Valley.

Incenses support Yoga and Meditation:

- Focus the mind &
- Relax the body

Resins like Frankincense and Myrrh, Sandalwood as wooden component and flower ingredients from Rose or Jasmine are traditionally used. More information on:

INCENSE

Incenses have been used since ancient times in religious or spiritual rituals, for health purposes, as well as to counter bad odors and to purify the air.

The word incense comes from Latin:
incendere,
means:
"to burn"

Incenses can be burnt directly or indirectly: Incense sticks and cones are made for direct burning. Aromatic oils in the oil lamp burners are used indirectly.

QUICK FACTS

Fair Trade

Fair trade is an institutional arrangement designed to help producers in developing countries to achieve better working & trading conditions.

ANLIVEDA
YOGA
ORGANICS
PVT. LTD. works with producers who have a Fair Trade Certificate.

Members of the Fair Trade movement advocate for payment of higher prices to original producers, as well as, for improved social, working and environmental standards.

Alabaster

Did you know?

In the mediaeval times, thin sliced Alabaster Stone sheets were made window glass.

Mineral Rock which includes:
1. Calcite
2. Gypsum
Translucent
Soft Stone

In ancient times, Alabaster was highly esteemed for making small perfume bottles or ointment vases called “alabastra”.

Aroma Oils

Research has shown that essential oils have potential as a natural pesticide, with deterring effects on insects including mosquitos.

Essential or Aroma Oils
are generally extracted by distillation.

The use of essential/ aroma oils is recorded in ancient India, Egypt and China.

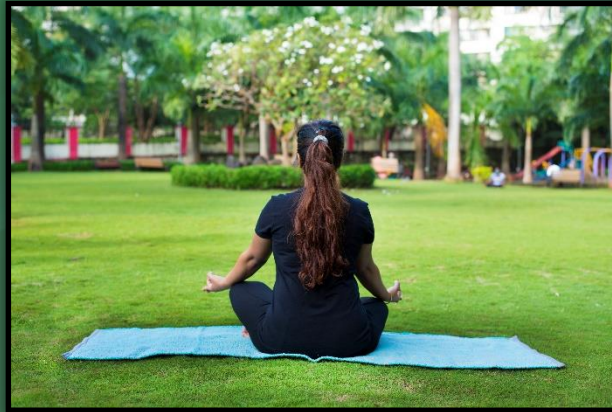

Aromatic plants, essences and oils have been used for beauty care, medical and religious purposes.
